Election Notice

Notice is hereby given to the stockholders of Bendersville, National Bank at Bendersville, Pa., that the annual meeting of said stockholders for the election of directors for the ensuing year, will be held at the banking house in Bendersville, Adams Co., Pa., on Tuesday, January 11, 1910, between the hours of 11 and 12 o'clock in the forenoon.

L. C. BUCHER,
Cashier.

In sections where rodents—rabbits and mice—abound and are likely to damage the young fruit trees by gnawing during the winter months it is none too early to be safeguarding them against such attacks. This may be done cheaply by wrapping the young trees at least two feet up from the ground with several ply of old newspapers. Tar paper and strips of wood veneer are used, but the newspaper properly fastened will answer the purpose nicely. In localities where the snow is likely to be deep and drift into the branches such wrapping as described will not furnish protection except to portions of the trunk covered; hence an effective warfare by means of shotgun, ferret, traps and poison should be waged continuously against these orchard enemies. To dislodge the mice, shocks of corn and litter in which they may nest be removed from the orchard.

The railroads seem to have survived the anti-railroad agitation and legislation of the past three or four years to the tune of an increase in net earnings for the year ending June 30, 1909, of $90,718,357 over the earnings of the preceding year. The total gross earnings of the last fiscal year were $2,437,385,841. These figures would seem to indicate that transportation companies have been more scared than hurt.

A section of northern Vermont has established a reputation with the agricultural department at Washington of producing a type of seed potato which is virtually free from disease and largely blight resistant. For this reason the seed is in great demand in the southern states, where the blight due to excessive moisture during the growing season is both prevalent and very destructive to the potato crop.

The Mongolian pheasant brought from China to this country several years ago and turned loose in the chaparral covered sections of Oregon and Washington seems to have found its new home a congenial one and is said to be multiplying rapidly under the complete protection which is being given it under the laws recently passed. Ranch owners frequently see the beautiful birds in their orchards but a few rods from the house.

MERCHANTS HOLD MONTHLY MEETING

Various Matters Taken up at December Meeting of Gettysburg Retail Merchants' Association. Early Closing.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Gettysburg Retail Merchants' Association held Friday evening a number of matters of importance to Gettysburg's business men were transacted. It was decided to rent room 203 in the First National Bank building for one year. The room has been used as a museum and was furnished by John A. Cox who offered the use of furnishings to the association free of cost. His offer was gratefully accepted.

It was agreed that all grocery, dry goods and shoe stores close at 6 o'clock every evening except Saturday during the months of January and February. There was some opposition to this by a few of the merchants but they submitted to the majority.

The matter of increasing the dues was discussed and it was decided to place the minimum dues at 25 cents per month. The scale is to be arranged by the president and secretary.

The committee having in charge the matter of securing ticket coupons allowing side trips to Gettysburg at time of next year's national Grand Army encampment at Atlantic City reported encouraging progress and said that the railroads had agreed to take up the matter with Western lines.

John W. Brehm was admitted as a charter member of the association, having been a member of the firm of Seligman and Brehm which entered at the time of the organization.

The matter of certain parties, not members, keeping open their place of business on Sunday was discussed.

The "booster" committee held over their report until the first meeting after the holidays at which time active work along this line will be started. The advertising committee did the same.

A number of other matters pertaining to the welfare of Gettysburg were talked over and action taken, but reserved from publication.

SLIDE FOR LIFE OVER RIVER NEARLY FATAL

Hanging by Teeth Performer Had Narrow Escape.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Dec. 11. — Suspended by a slender wire over the Susquehanna river, C. G. Richards, a performer, furnishing one of the features of the Christmas carnival in this city, had to fight desperately for his life. His performance was to slide over the river hanging by his teeth to a pulley running on a thin wire cable.

Halfway across the slide stopped, the momentum not being sufficient, and he hung suspended. He was thinly clad, and a cold numbing wind blew up the river with great force. He managed by a great effort to get hold of the cable and to pull himself along a few inches at a time.

Finally he fell as he tried to make the last few yards of the journey. He was picked up unconscious, an ankle and hip being injured, and he may also be injured internally.

DROUGHT GROWS SERIOUS

As day after day passes by without any rain, the drought continues to grow more serious all over Adams County. One prominent Highland township farmer in talking over the situation said:

"I have a large quantity of stock and both of my wells are about dry. I am up against a very serious proposition. Many other farmers are hauling water for their stock while some drive them to nearby streams."

Last Tuesday's rain was welcomed but did very little good. Only a rain of three or four days will relieve existing conditions and the ruralites are becoming very anxious over the outlook. It now seems that the drought is not to be broken before winter sets in and next summer's wheat crop will amount to scarcely anything if this is the case.

From all over the state comes the same cry and especially in the counties surrounding Adams. The trolley line between York and Hanover has had to cease running indefinitely on account of lack of water power and machinery is now being installed to guard against a recurrence of the trouble.

EDWARD BAKER KILLED BY FALL

Emmitsburg Man Falls from Third Story of Building to a Fence and Dies from Injuries. Fellow Workman's Narrow Escape.

Lingering several days with fatal injuries, Contractor J. Edward Baker, of Emmitsburg, died at his home in that place from the effects of a fall from the third floor of the Gelwick's building in course of construction in that town. He sustained three broken ribs and a number of internal injuries.

Mr. Baker, with George Shorb, was measuring supports for rafters when the accident happened. He was holding a heavy piece of timber and at the same time was steadying the step-ladder on which Shorb stood. He was facing away from the building with his back to the ladder. In some way the bottom of the timber slipped out and its weight threw Mr. Baker from his balance and he fell. An unavailing effort to catch hold of the building turned his body and he fell on the top of a fence landing on his left side and then falling to the ground, he struck his head on one of the foundation stones.

Shorb saved himself by catching hold of the rafter where he hung for a short time until rescued from his perilous position. All of the workmen hastened to the prostrate body of Mr. Baker and he was carried to his home, which fortunately was but a short distance from the scene of the accident. Dr. Stone was summoned and the broken bones were placed in position but the internal injury was too severe and on Wednesday 48 hours after the accident, Mr. Baker died.

For many years he was Emmitsburg's leading contractor and builder. He was aged forty-one years, nine months and twenty-nine days. There survive him his widow and four children, two brothers, Messrs. Joseph and Charles Baker and one sister, Mrs. William Golden. The funeral services were held Friday morning in St. Joseph's church. The interment was made in the churchyard at Emmitsburg.

TRAGIC DEATH OF MR. GEORGE GUISE

Former Resident of Liberty Twp., Falls Down Mine Shaft Sustaining Fatal Injury. Taken 20 Miles to Doctor.

Word has been received here of the tragic death of Mr. George Guise, formerly of Liberty township several weeks ago. He was killed by falling down a mine shaft in Arizona to which state he went from Adams County many years ago.

The following account of the fatal accident to Mr. Guise is taken from the Arizona Republican of Phoenix: Just as he was on the point of realizing a fortune from his mining claims which he had held for many years, George W. Guise, a prospector, died yesterday morning at the city hall from the effects of a fall into a disused shaft of the Union Mining company in the Winfred district.

Guise had been a miner in the district for many years. He lost every dollar he had in Denver during the panic of '93. He was at that time building a 60 room apartment house and several other buildings when the crash came. He then took up the claims in the Winfred district. Some time ago he was offered $15,000 for a part of his holdings. He refused this and a little later refused $25,000 in cash. He continued pegging away at his claims till Tuesday when he accidentally fell into an old shaft, breaking both legs, dislocating his shoulder and inflicting injuries from which he died after being brought to Phoenix by wagon, a distance of twenty miles.

Guise had been camping alone and looking after his properties. Tuesday, Superintendent Nichols of the Fortuna, asked Guise to look after his property while he came to Phoenix. Guise moved over to Nichols camp and found there were no matches. It was just growing dark so he went to the bank house of the Union where he was supplied with matches and stopped long enough to take supper. He started back in the dark about eight o'clock. Some time later Tom Treadwell and Walter Hastings of the Old Kentucky mine heard the dogs barking and went out to see what had happened.

They were led by the dogs to the mouth of the old shaft and heard Guise groaning at the bottom. They got ladders and timber and found Guise unconscious at the bottom. He had fallen about twenty-five feet. Road Overseer Linville and William Lewis had their lumber wagon at the mine and agreed at once to bring Guise to Phoenix, the nearest point to a physician. During the long twenty mile ride Guise regained consciousness. He was taken to the city hall and Dr. Beauchamp responded and did what he could for Guise. Arrangements were made to send Guise to the Sisters' hospital but he died just as the ambulance went for him.

Mr. Guise was aged sixty years, one month and one day.

SERIOUS OPERATION

Milton Miller, of Sand Patch a Junior at college was taken to the Harrisburg Hospital on Friday for an operation for appendicitis. The operation proved unusually difficult as the appendix was in an abnormal position. Mr. Miller withstood it well, however, and his complete recovery is expected. He was a member of the college foot ball team and his fine physical condition is serving him well. The operation was performed by Dr. Kunkle who is well known here.

UNCLAIMED LETTERS

He Thought It Peculiar.

Some years ago Frank A. Munsey, the magazine man, hired a private secretary. Speaker Reed dropped in to call on Mr. Munsey, who was an old friend of his. The secretary said that Mr. Munsey was engaged. "All right," said Reed, "I'll wait." At the end of half an hour Munsey's door opened, and the publisher appeared, showing his caller out. Seeing the speaker, he grasped his hand and dragged him into his office. An hour later, when Reed had gone, Mr. Munsey called his secretary. "Look here, Block," he said, "what do you mean by letting Speaker Reed wait unannounced half an hour?" "Wa-wa-wath that Mr. Reed?" "It certainly was." "Why, I thought it wath the Rev. Dr. John Hall," said the secretary. "Dr. Hall has been dead two years," answered Munsey severely. "I know it," replied the secretary. "Thath why I thought it wath the very peculiar."

BIG RAILWAY WAR OPENS IN SENATE
Cummins Would Give Interstate Commission Court Power.

RIGHT TO FIX RATES
Iowa Fires First Gun of Expected Hot Fight in Congress—Proposed Measure is Virtually a Substitute For Interstate Commerce Act.
 Washington, Dec. 11.—A controversy over railroad legislation is promised in congress this winter which in interest and importance may surpass the conflict over railroad rates four years ago.
 The first gun was fired by Senator Cummins, of Iowa, who introduced a bill proposing radical changes in the interstate commerce act. In a large sense it is a virtual substitute for the act.
 It is expected that a bill proposing amendments to the law will be introduced early in January by Senator Elkins which will differ from the Cummins bill in many details.
 In brief, the Cummins bill requires the interstate commerce commission to promulgate a uniform classification of freight and to prepare a plan for the statement of freight rates which shall hereafter be made in a uniform way. Carriers are required to adopt this classification.
Power to Fix Rates.
 The commission is authorized to consider rates on its own motion, determine their reasonableness, and is empowered to fix maximum and minimum rates.
 In any action to set aside a rate order of the commission, the courts are prevented from inquiring into the reasonableness or sufficiency of any rate fixed.
 The bill provides that changes in rates shall not become effective until they are approved by the commission.
 It prohibits the acquisition of control by any common carrier of any parallel competing line, or from acquiring the capital stock or bonds of any other carrier that is a competitor.
 A carrier is prohibited from issuing any capital stock without payment at par either in money or in property, and, in effect, the commission is to have supervision of the issues of stock and bonds by any carrier.
 Specific directions are given for the disposition of the proceeds of any sale of bonds.
 After Jan. 1, 1911, no carrier doing interstate business shall be permitted to engage in any other business than that of a common carrier.
CHILD KILLS HIS MOTHER

 Williamsport, Pa., Dec. 11.—Mrs. Charles Welshans, of Rauchtown, died from a wound inflicted by her four-year-old son, who picked up and discharged a gun his father had placed on a table just before starting on a hunting trip.
 Another hunting accident that may result fatally occurred at Laquint, where Arthur Alexander was shot in the side by his companion, James Frazer, when the latter's gun was accidentally discharged. Alexander is in the Williamsport hospital in a critical condition.

LA FOLLETTE SNUBBED
Senator Called to See President; Was Told to "Come Around Next Week."
 Washington, Dec. 11.—Senator La Follette, leader of the senate radicals, who prefers to be called "progressive," is aggrieved because Wendell W. Mitchell, assistant secretary to the president, told him, when he applied at the White House to see the president, to "come around next week."
 "When the president gets ready to see me he can send for me," retorted "Badger Bob" in his best Chautauque vein.
Read of Crime; Shot Wife and Self.
 San Francisco, Dec. 11.—After he had read in the papers the account of the shooting of Dr. Wood by Gabriel Jacobs because the doctor broke his home up, and of Jacob's suicide, D. B. Groff, an Oakland capitalist, shot his wife and then killed himself. They lived unhappily, and Groff told his friends that his wife had simply married him for his money.
Earthquake Shakes Guam.
 Washington, Dec. 11.—A severe earthquake caused considerable damage on the island of Guam, according to a dispatch received at the navy department. The women and children's hospital was damaged to the extent of about $6000. There were no casualties.

Deafness Cannot be Cured
 by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
 We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

With nervous diseases of a severe type, persistent use has almost invariably resulted in a complete cure or lasting benefits, worth many times the cost of the remedy. The best evidence you can get of its merits is to write to those who have used it. Get a bottle from your druggist. Take it all according to directions, and if it does not benefit he will return your money.

GIVES PLEDGE FOR HOME RULE
British Premier Announces His Party's Policy.

POINT GAINED FOR ERIN
Mr. Asquith Makes Ireland's Cause the Issue in Impending Election — Declares Party's Policy is to Give Irish People Local Self-Government.
 London, Dec. 11.—At a monster meeting in Albert hall Herbert Henry Asquith, the British prime minister, laid down the policy on which the Liberal government is appealing to the country. He repeated what had been said by other ministers—that if it were returned to power the government would demand the limitation of the power of the house of lords—and then went a step further and pledged that the Liberal party would grant self-government to Ireland.
 The meeting was marked by the great enthusiasm of an audience that filled the vast hall and which was composed entirely of men, women having been denied admission in the fear that there might be counter demonstrations by suffragettes. Every corner of the hall had been searched during the day for women, and a small band of them was routed out, but they managed to get two male supporters into the meeting, who interrupted Mr. Asquith momentarily with cries of "Votes for women." Then they were promptly ejected from the hall.
Liberal Party's Policy.
 Mr. Asquith pointed out that just four years ago Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, then prime minister, had outlined in Albert hall the policy of a new Liberal government, which included many reforms. The representatives of the people in the house of commons had labored faithfully to carry into law the measures promised, but their will had been nullified and, as a fitting climax, the supplies, which the house of commons had voted, had been stepped upon by the house of lords.
 Therefore, the house of commons was now on the eve of another dissolution and it had fallen to his lot to take up the burden. The last time, he said, the government had reckoned without their host, but it was not going to make that mistake again.
Ireland Fortunate.
 After referring to the action of the house of lords in regard to the matter of Welsh religious quality and the fate of certain Scottish land bills, Mr. Asquith turned his attention to Ireland, which, he said, had been fortunate for once, because the measures sent up in her behalf did not come violently athwart the prejudices of the house of lords.
 "Speaking last year before my accession to the premiership," Mr. Asquith continued, "I described the Irish policy as the one undeniable failure of British statesmanship. I repeat what I said then, and on behalf of my colleagues and I believe, on behalf of the party, I reiterate that this is a problem to be solved only in one way—by a policy which, while explicitly safeguarding the supreme, indivisible authority of the imperial parliament, can set up in Ireland a system of full self-government as regards purely Irish affairs."
Social Reform in Budget.
 Mr. Asquith defended the budget as necessary to social reform, and in this respect old age pensions were the first step. The budget, he continued, had been thrown out by the house of lords after weeks of debate, and the government, as a result, was confronted with three constitutional innovations: first, the claim of the house of lords to control in levying taxation; second, the claim of the same house to the right to compel dissolution of the popular chamber and, third, the assertion of the house of lords of their power to make and unmake the executive government of the crown.

SAGE FOR DARKENING THE HAIR

There is nothing new about the idea of using sage for darkening the color of the hair. Our great grandmothers kept their locks soft dark and glossy by using a "sage tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull, faded or streaked appearance, they made a brew of sage leaves and applied it to their hair with wonderfully beneficial effect. Nowadays we don't have to resort to the old time tiresome method of gathering the herbs and making the brew. This is done by skillful chemists better than we could do it ourselves and all we have to do is to call for the ready made product. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, containing sage in the proper strength, with the addition of Sulphur, another old time scalp remedy. This preparation is sold by all first-class druggists for 50c. and $1.00 a bottle, or is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

HANDS CRACKED RAW AND SCALY

Itched and Burned Terribly—Arms Affected, Too—Could Not Move Thumbs Without Flesh Cracking—Sleep and Work Often Impossible—Was Fairly Worn Out.

CUTICURA SOON CURED HIS FEARFUL ECZEMA

"About a year ago an itching humer began to appear around the back of my hand. It started in to spread, and pretty soon it covered both my hands and got up over my wrists and even up to the elbows. The itching and burning were terrible. My hands got all scaly and when I scratched as I was doing a good part of the time, the surface would be covered with blisters and then get raw. The eczema got so bad in around the pit of my thumb that I could not move the thumb without deep cracks appearing. I went to my doctor, but his medicine could only stop the itching and did not seem to heal my hands up at all. At night I suffered so fearfully that I could not sleep, often lying awake until well toward morning, then waking up still tired, and a chief cause of my trouble was that I had to give up my place, as my hands were so terrible to look at that they did not like to have me around about the food. I could not bear to touch them with water, but when I positively had to get my hands clean I would rub them with oil.
"This sort of business went on for three months and I kept trying ointments and tar ointments and such remedies with no particular benefit. I did not know what to do, for I was fairly worn out. For a long time several friends kept asking me why I didn't use Cuticura and at last I thought I would. First I got the Cuticura Soap, then Cuticura Ointment, and then Cuticura Resolvent. I put the Cuticura Ointment at night, covering my hands with light cotton gloves. In the morning the inside of the gloves would be lined with scales, sometimes half as long as your finger, leaving nice healed places where the scales had been. A month I was cured and have kept so now for nine months. My hands and arms are perfectly clear of all traces of eczema and I think I am well rid of it. Walter H. Cox, 18 Somerset St., Boston, Mass. Sept. 25, 1908."

NEGRO KILLS TWO WOMEN

Leaves a Third Dying With Her Skull Crushed.

THOUSANDS IN MANHUNT

Savannah Police Look Up 150 Men in Hope of Finding Murderer—Revolving Crime Occurred in the Heart of the City.

Savannah, Ga., Dec. 11.—Sprawled hideously about the halls and rooms of their home in the heart of the residence section of Savannah, the mutilated bodies of Mrs. Ella Gribble, aged seventy years, and her daughter, Mrs. Carrie Ohlander, were found by a patrolman, attracted to the house by the moans of a third woman, Mrs. Maggie Hunter, who is at the point of death in the Savannah hospital. A bloody axe and the torn clothing of Mrs. Ohlander forms the theory of the police that it was for the purpose of criminal assault and of covering up his crime that the murderer used the weapon in such terrible fashion.

A negro who had been living for a day or two in an outhouse in the rear of the residence is missing, and though his trail is cold, blood hounds are at work, with scores of officers searching for bits of clues that may lead to his hiding place.

Arrests by Wholesale.
One hundred and fifty negro men, caught in the meshes of the police dragnet through Yamacraw, a negro section of the city, are prisoners in the police station, the theory of the police being that a negro man, having planned an assault upon Mrs. Ohlander, was compelled to commit the other crimes in order to escape.

Feeling is tense here, and an outbreak of serious character is not improbable. If the assailant-murderer is found his life would be almost certain to pay the forfeit in quick order for his crime.
It is believed that Mrs. Hunter, the third victim, who is yet barely alive, is a relative of Mrs. Gribble, who was at the home on a visit. Her skull is broken in by the blows of the axe, and she will hardly recover consciousness before the end comes, and another will be added to the list of murders. The dying woman was at the door of the house as the officer who found the bodies entered. Evidently she was trying to escape or give the alarm when her strength failed her. She could not have moved far from the place where she was attacked when she fell.

Killed While Sitting in Chair.
The police believe that the assault on Mrs. Ohlander was planned in advance by the murderer, and that the killing of her mother and the fatal injuries to Mrs. Hunter were incidental to the first crime. Mrs. Gribble was killed apparently while she was seated in an easy chair, reading. At the side of her battered body on the floor were her spectacles and a newspaper. Her gray hair was blood-clotted where the fatal blow of the axe fell. No outcry was heard by anyone in the neighborhood while the murderer was at work. The body of Mrs. Gribble was cold when found, and it was evident that the murderer had several hours start of the police.

Men and boys have joined posses that yet have been of little service except to arouse feeling against the slayer. It is not believed that the negro has left Savannah. From a wood-house where the supposed murderer found his weapon bloodhounds have started a dozen times as if on the trail, only to be confused by the multitude of crossed trails on the asphalted streets.

SHERIFF'S POSSE HUNTS MURDERER

Slayer of Man May be Roughly Handled if Caught.

Crisfield, Md., Dec. 11.—A posse of citizens, headed by Sheriff Sterling, is searching the town and community for Enoch Berker, of Salisbury, who is accused of stabbing to death William Tullford in his home here. If Berker is caught it is likely that he will be roughly handled.

Daisy Tullford, wife of the murdered man, who is charged with being implicated in the crime, was placed in jail, but Berker escaped.

It is said that when Tullford went home to his supper his wife, without any cause, began to quarrel, and Berker, who was present, interferred and was told by Tullford to keep quiet. Berker took this as an insult and cursed Tullford, who turned to leave the room. Just as he reached the door he turned and saw Berker coming toward him with a large knife, and before Tullford could defend himself he was stabbed once in the chest, cutting an artery and causing instant death.

An inquest was at once held and a verdict that Berker murdered Tullford in cold blood was rendered.

Denied the Rejected

A murder case had been cited in court, and it was extremely difficult to get a jury. A long list of witnesses had been examined with poor results when Miss McDonald was summoned. "Mr. McDonald," asked the judge, "have you formed or expressed an opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the prisoner at the bar?" "No, sir," replied Miss McDonald. "Have you any connections or relatives against capital punishment?" "Not in this case, your honor," Miss McDonald replied.

PLAN TO PUNISH ZELAYA FOR MURDER

Rayner Would Authorize President to Arrest Him.

Washington, Dec. 11.—Mr. Rayner, of Maryland, introduced in the senate a resolution authorizing the president to take the necessary steps for the apprehension of President Zelaya, of

SENATOR ISIDOR RAYNER.

Nicaragua, and for his punishment on the charge of murder, if the facts in the possession of the state department warrant such action.

The resolution recites the circumstances connected with the execution of the Americans, Groce and Cannon, by order of President Zelaya, as generally understood through published reports from Nicaragua.

The resolution will lie upon the table and Senator Rayner has given notice that he will address the senate in its support.

Evidence is multiplying that Zelaya intends to retire from the presidency of Nicaragua. Reports to that effect are general in that country, and American consular officers seem to credit them.

The latest news from Nicaragua reaching the state department said that Jose Madriz was being talked of as Zelaya's successor.

Gettysburg

All Out of Sorts

Has Any Gettysburg Person Never Felt That Way?

Feel all out of sorts?
Tired, Blue, Irritable, Nervous?
Back feel lame and achy?
That's the story of sick kidneys—
Bad blood circulating about;
Uric acid poisoning the body,
Just one way to feel right again,
Cure the sluggish kidneys;
Do it with Doan's Kidney Pills.
Doan's have cured many Gettysburg people.

Here's one case.
Mrs. Anna Matthews, 44 Steinwehr Ave., Gettysburg, Pa., says: "It would be hard to describe the misery I endured from kidney disease, in fact it really seemed as if I had all the symptoms of this malady. My back ached severely and the pains were so intense at times as to make me feel miserable. The kidney secretions were also irregular in passage and gave me much annoyance. I finally procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at the People's drug store and used them according to directions. My back grew stronger in a short time, the kidney secretions were regulated and I felt better in every way."

KILLS GIRL AND HIMSELF

Young Man, Spurns, Shoots Her or Way Home From School.

Washington, Dec. 11.—While she was returning from the Washington seminary, Miss Laura Braden, aged seventeen, a prominent society girl, and daughter of Attorney A. G. Braden, was shot and instantly killed by Walter Seybold, aged nineteen, son of a wealthy cigar manufacturer.

Seybold ran about eight blocks from the scene of the murder and, when surrounded by police and state troopers, shot himself through the head, dying instantly.

The murder was the result of the girl's refusal to entertain Seybold's suit. Seybold was infatuated with Miss Braden, and had repeatedly asked her to marry him. He had not only been refused, but Mr. and Mrs. Braden had ordered him from their home.

Seybold met Miss Braden on the street, but she refused to recognize him. When she was walking home in company with Paul Hallam, Seybold stole up behind the pair and shot the girl in the back. As she fell, he turned her over and, holding her down with one hand, emptied three more shots into her body.

Hallam attempted to stop the infuriated boy, and two shots were fired at him, one making a slight flesh wound in the leg. Seybold then fled toward the outskirts of the town, reloading his gun as he ran. A crowd was soon in pursuit, and police and troopers, the latter on horseback, joined in the chase.
